Dear Mom & Dad —

Right after the robbery happened this police officer told newspaper that each robber carried two guns.

By god, he had to see them in order to say this. But yet he got on the stand and said he didn't see anything.

What ~~d~~ am I going to do? This man knows he is mistaken but he knows that he saved face little himself in his fellow officers eyes if he would admit it.

This policeman wears glasses that are thick as COKE BOTTLES so you know damn well he is lying when he says he didn't see anything with his glasses on but yet he saw everything with his glasses off.

Mom, someway, somehow, you must get somebody to talk to me about this case because I am innocent.

I can't talk to my attorney because he isn't interested in anything but the money the court gives him to represent me.

He didn't help me at my trial, I had to fight with him every step of the way!

Please, I beg you, have mercy on somebody who is being punish for something he didn't do.

You know the kind of person I am — you know that I had feelings for Patty at a time when she needed them most, so please, try to do something.

I Love all of You

Charles
